14TH DRC SUMMER SCHOOL

2-9 JULY, 2017 - PÉCS, HUNGARY

Each year, the DRC Summer School is hosted by a different university and therefore offers a variety of settings. We are looking for young BA, MA and Phd level scientist from Social, Human and Political Sciences, who are interested in the region, have scientific records or intend to have deeper knowledge about the Danube Region.

The 2017 edition of the DRC Summer School, titled ,New Borders Between Old Neighbours – Return Of History In The Danube Region?’ will focus on the recent challenges of the Danube Region, Central and Eastern Europe. Borders are coming back, reflecting on a historical period with a divided region.

Register if you are interested in the region’s political, economic, historical and social processes - discover our workshops and present your idea and research. With the help of highly skilled speakers and experienced workshop leaders, through a compelling mixture of debate, workshop presentations and lectures, you’ll learn all about the recent means of the Danube Region. Every edition of the DRC Summer School is a unique experience. The topics are selected in relation to current and historical events, offering a broad variety for social scientists.

Within the thematical workshops participants are required to present their papers or researches. This year’s edition will focus on the following topics:

1. Schengen, Dublin, Idomeni? Security challenges at the EU’s outskirts
2. Migration within and from outside of the Danube Region
3. Political, ideological and religious radicalisation
4. EUSDR: Economy and prosperity for the Danube Region through cross-border cooperation

A field trip complements theory and brings perspectives outside of the seminar room to the group. Furthermore, during our social programmes you will experience the vibrant atmosphere of this year’s host city, Pécs.
